URGED TO UNITE FOR PROHIBITION

W. C. T. U. Advised to Co-Operate With Other Woman's Organizations.

REVIEW OF YEAR'S WORK

Secretary Wilson Condemned for Addressing International Brewers.

gent recommendations that the Nation-al Woman's Christian Temperance Union co-operate with other women's organizations for laws for national prohibition were made by Lillian M. N. Stevens, national president, at the thirty-seventh annual convention here to-day. Other recommendations by Miss Stevens were:

"That we continue with renewed energy to appeal to Congress for a law stray to appeal to Congress for a law that will furnish provision for the projection of prohibition terrifory from the nullification of its laws through intereste shipment of liquor.

"That we ask for legislation to preyent the use of the United States mails for the purpose of advertising alcoholic beverages.

"That we continue to oppose efforts for the restoration of the sale of liquor in the army canteen or in any place from which it has been banished.

"That we work for a law that will forbid issuing tax receipts for inquor sold within five miles of any army post or naval station.

"That we use our utmost influence to secure laws for the suppression of the white slave traffic.

"That we continue our efforts to serure an amendment to the United States Constitution forever prohibiting polysamy."

Constitution forever prohibiting polygemy."

Review of Accomplishments.

The speech of the President was a review of all the accomplishments during the last year. After commending the German Emperor for his temperance address to the naval cudets, praising Professor Wiley for his pure food campaign and condemning Secretary Wilson for addressing the International Brewers, the speaker told in detail the fight by the Union to retain the prohibitory law in Maine. "From the beginning," she said, "we fealized that one of the chief dangers lay in the fact that the people of idaine did not know the dangers of the licensed saloon. They had no conception of what a saloon really is, and they underestimated the power of the liquor forces in the land. The success of prohibition in Maine had caused many people to fall into a state of indifference with little realization of the benefits they were enjoying.

"I trust this convention will indorse the proposition contained in the proclamation of September 10, and will work for its leading provision—national constitutional prohibition.

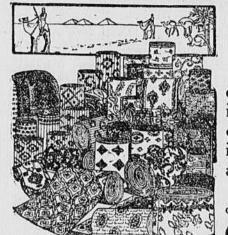

"Upon the convening of Congress, Congressman Hebson will introduce a bill for submitting an amendment for national constitutional and amendment for national constitutional prohibition, and will give to the measure his hearty active Support. I trust this measure will receive the co-operation of the Men and Religion Porward Movement and that they will proclaim national prohibition a fundamental remedy for the political, industrial and social unrest of the day.

people, and this will be the first city to vote in the State as a city on this question. The fight, if it can be properly termed a fight, was precipitated by the City School Board, the mem bers of which are endeavoring to se bers of which are endeavoring to secure a large majority in favor of such a departure. Because of the recent completion of two new white grammar schools, a new high school for whites, and a grammar school for negroes, with another under construction for whites, such a departure will be possible in Lynchburg, although lack of room would have made it impossible two years ago. No opposition has developed to the proposi-

The negro was sentenced to eighteen years for a crime that he confessed. This was the first crime of this nature in that county for a long time, and it has aroused the people of the neighborhood in which the intended victim resides. The negro will be kept here until sent for hy the last year. There is more competition on the Lynchburg market than for years, and the farmers see benefits coming to them already from this. All of the crop was cut and housed before the heavy frosts of Wednesday and Thursday, and the weather has been ideal for curing. After next week, the commission merchants expect to see a rush to sell as soon as a damp spell will have been experienced, for this will be necessary for the planters to market the weed. The local market is the largest dark loose leaf market in the State. The sales last year amounted to about 17,000,000 pounds, exclusive of resold lots.
